

CONTINUING PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

A Presentation Registered with CIBSE and Accredited by the IPHE by Lifescience Products Limited

I am writing with a short synopsis of a technical presentation we offer to Mechanical Consultants, Plumbing Engineers and Heating Contractors entitled:-

Various Methods of Water Treatment Including Physical Water Treatment

Physical Water Treatment is increasingly specified by Consultants but there is still considerable uncertainty about how well it works, how reliable and how effective it really is. At Lifescience we are specialists in this technology and have conducted a considerable amount of original research in the field. Some of this is published but much of it unpublished. A face to face presentation gives us the opportunity to talk frankly about the best (and worst) of this technology.

The presentation covers inter alia:

Hard Water and its Chemistry

The Problem with Hard Water (and the requirements of Part L and the Domestic Heating Compliance Guide)

Ways of Treating Hard Water:

How they work
Suitable Applications
Benefits
Limitations

Testing & Technological Advances

Summary

The course has been assessed by the CIPHE as part of their Professional Development Programme. It is separately accredited by CIBSE, who include it on their register of CPD courses and can contribute towards their CPD points requirement.

Whilst both mechanical and electrical engineers will find much of the presentation interesting it will be of particular benefit to Public Health Engineers and members of SOPHE. We are happy to present to any size of audience – even one to one.

It lasts for approximately 45 minutes and is delivered free of charge. We would be pleased to pay for refreshments if the course takes place over a lunch break.
